

Olive Varieties	55% Correggiolo 25% Leccino 10% Moraiolo 10% Pendolino
-----------------	---

Oil Producer	Giuseppe Mazzocolin
--------------	----------------------------

Closure	Screwcap
---------	-----------------

Bottle Sizes	75cl
--------------	-------------

PRODUCER

This 470 hectare estate is located northeast of Siena, in the commune of Castelnuovo Berardenga, on the southern border of the Chianti Classico production area. Fèlsina is not only a wine estate, but also a traditional Tuscan farm, or 'fattoria'. Throughout its history, various agricultural activities have taken place, the most important of these, on a par with winemaking, is olive oil production.

OLIVE GROVES

There are three separate "grove units" (Boschi, Fèlsina, Pagliarese), each with distinctive soils and weather, and three different terroirs for each olive variety. The olive groves cover 47.2491 hectares, totalling 6,923 trees.

HARVEST

After a difficult harvest in 2023, followed by a very mild winter, the 2024 season started with exceptionally abundant flowering in May despite rainy conditions that lasted until early June. A dry, hot summer followed without disease pressures or pest-related issues, ensuring that the olives were perfectly healthy. The harvest began mid October and is currently looking abundant, with excellent quality. However, the resa is currently around 10%, meaning oil yield from the fruit is currently quite low, though this may improve as we approach December when the harvest is expected to finish.

PRODUCTION

The olives were hand harvested just as they began to turn colour (veraison), the ideal moment for optimal quality of the oil. They were immediately transferred to the pressing facility, which began no more than 4 hours after harvesting. Oil was only extracted from the pulp and was stored in stainless steel blanketed by nitrogen or argon to prevent oxidation and was bottled under vacuum.

TASTING NOTES

Bright green in colour, the olive oil stands out for the remarkable intensity of its bitter and peppery properties, beautifully balanced with spice and herbaceous essences.